

INSPECTORATE BUREAU VERITAS

Bureau Veritas is a world leading, professional services company. They offer bespoke solutions to help organisations achieve, maintain and demonstrate compliance with quality, health, safety, environmental and social accountability obligations. Inspectorate is one of the world's leading inspection and testing organisations, part of the Bureau Veritas Group.

ASSIGNMENT SCOPE

FiveBarGate Consultants advised Inspectorate on the technical requirements of providing a turnkey service to clients in the petrochemical and BioEnergy sectors to enable Inspectorate to offer sustainability assurance within their portfolio of products to energy companies and trading partners active in BioEnergy supply chains.

FIVEBARGATE APPROACH

FiveBarGate worked closely with key personnel to provide technical briefings and regulatory updates. Key business processes were reviewed and developed to meet the requirements of regulatory stakeholders and supply chain participants.

FiveBarGate effectively became part of the Inspectorate team during key project phases to help make sure the service offering was robust, reliable and competitive. This included helping find and train key resources, building a team to develop a bespoke service offering.

CLIENT STATEMENT

Adrian Mason, Business Development Manager, Western Europe and Africa: "FiveBarGate's understanding of BioEnergy supply chains and how they interface with regulation is outstanding. They are able to integrate a thorough technical reference base with a hands on approach that helps companies active in the BioEnergy sector do business better and therefore do better business."

OUTCOMES

The Inspectorate sustainability assurance product offering developed from a blank sheet of paper to a business turning over in excess of €250,000pa within a short period of time.
